Supervisory Patent Examiner, Art Unit 3689

Continuation of 5 Other: In regards to the Rejection made under 35 USC 112, second paragraph, the Examiner asserts that the applicant has not provided a proper response to the rejection. Specifically, the Examiner has stated that it is unclear on the examination of the means plus function claims found throughout the present claims. For example, the applicant discloses, "position information transmission means for transmitting the position information acquired by the position information acquisition means" However, it is unclear whether the applicant is claiming a position information transmission means, such as a GPS device, or a means for transmitting the position information, such as a modem in a computer that is linked to another device in order to allow a user to transmit their position information. Although this was only one example, the Examiner stated that similar language was found throughout the claims, such as claims 2, 3, and 5 just to name a few. However, the Examiner asserts that the applicant has failed to properly provide a sufficient response to better clarify the claim language, what structural components of the invention are used to disclose the claim language, as well as correcting the current claim language to properly disclose the scope of the invention, as was discussed above.
